Artists have depicted our natural environment and have worked in collaboration with natural elements for centuries. While some artists have created works to draw attention to ecological issues, we, as viewers, can use the lens of environmental consciousness to look at all works of art, regardless of its original intention.

ABOUT
Artwork depicting our environment:

FOR
Artwork advocating for environmental issues:

WITH
Artwork created in harmony with the environment:

IN
Artwork created in or found in our environment:

Look for evidence of artists responding to the environment. Sketch and take notes of artworks that fall into each of these categories.