

How do different cultures share, celebrate, or exert power?

Sketch or name the artwork you are focusing on and explain its connection to power in each of the artwork frames. Use visual clues and any information you can discover about the art.

Are there artworks you can see reclaiming power, are self-empowering, or that empower someone else?

What kind of power dynamic might you be noticing in this artwork?

What privileges should be considered about the subject of the artwork or that contributed to its creation?

Recognizing power

What ways do you see power manifest in these artworks? Power and privilege are built into all aspects of society. Power dynamics intersect with many areas of our lives, and sometimes it's hard to spot. Look closely, how does power show up in these artworks?